

Oppose Securing Borah as Speaker

Lincoln, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—A group of business men and Republicans are opposed to the entertainment of Senator William E. Borah by the Lincoln Republican club. Senator Borah is to be the speaker at a postponed Lincoln day dinner.

For Republicans to honor Senator Borah for his obstructive policies would be nothing more or less than a direct slap in the face for President Coolidge," said Bradford H. Divine, spokesman for the group. He said the invitation should be personal and did not come from organized Republicans.

William Ross Lee, president of the club, said that the club had not taken formal action on the invitation but that it had tried to engage Senator Borah for the last five years as the Lincoln day speaker.

"If the published reports of his record are correct," Divine said, "he has been obstructive to the policies so ably advocated by President Coolidge and his supporters in both houses of Congress."

He is president of a business concern and a member of the club although not active politically.

Guest Day at 20th Century Club

Members and Guests Enjoy Delightful Recital by Mrs. Doty and Lecture on "Ancient Greece" by Prof. Fitch.

It was "Guest Day" with the Twentieth Century Club on Monday afternoon when the invited friends of the club and the club members met in the lecture room of the Fair Street Reformed Church to hear a most interesting and informative lecture on "Ancient Greece," and two groups of pleasing songs sung by Mrs. Charles Franklin Doty.

Mrs. Van Ingen, president of the club, welcomed the guests cordially and announced as the opening of their afternoon's program a group of songs to be sung by Mrs. Doty, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Louis S. Coe. Mrs. Doty sang "The Country Night Song" by Montague Phillips, "The Unforeseen" by Cyril Scott, "The Last Song" by James Rodger, receiving very appreciative applause after each number.

In introducing the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Van Ingen said that the Twentieth Century Club was particularly happy in introducing the brother of one of their members, Prof. Edward Fitch, dean of Hamilton College and sister of Mrs. William J. Cranston. Prof. Fitch is also professor of Greek at Hamilton College and speaks with special authority on the subject "Ancient Greece."

A Corner of Greece.

Prof. Fitch prefaced his remarks by saying he would not attempt to cover all of "Ancient Greece," but just a corner that might be termed "More Ancient Greece," in the history of which a new chapter had been written during the past fifty years, a chapter on the bronze age of the land, before the Greeks had any knowledge of iron. The speaker told very interesting of how, previous to 1876, Greek history had been supposed to date no further back than 800 B. C. for it was considered that there could be no real history without written records.

There were, however, two great masses of tradition preceding this time, one a mass of great poetry including Homer's two great poems and the other a mass of tradition about the Isle of Crete. Fifty-one years ago a young North German student conceived the idea that much of the tradition of ancient Greece was underlain with historical fact, and in 1876 excavations were begun under the city of Mycenae, with the result that there has been found much background of fact to the poems of Homer and the present history of Greece, with its true story of how men thought and lived which goes back to from 1200 to 3000 B. C.

More Marvellous Discoveries.

After 1900 excavations were likewise made on the Island of Crete and marvellous discoveries of several ancient historical periods were there unearthed.

Prof. Fitch followed his lecture which he made entertaining as well as informing with a series of exceedingly interesting lantern slides, showing many of the results of the excavations that he had told about and in clever fashion connecting up this most ancient European civilization with that of the present, in that we are of European, not Asiatic descent.

Second Group of Songs.

At the close of the lecture, Mrs. Doty sang again her second group of songs being, "I'm Wearing Awa," by Arthur Foote; "The Answer," by Robert H. Terry; and "Morning," by Oley Speaks and was again enthusiastically applauded by her audience.

After the program, for which a rising vote of thanks was given by all present both to Prof. Fitch and Mrs. Doty, a social hour was enjoyed, afternoon tea being served from a beautifully appointed tea table with its graceful center-piece of snapdragons and ferns. Mrs. Bogart presided at the tea table and was assisted in serving the guests by other members of the club.

Describes Attack On Socony Hill

John D. Wilson Modestly Tells of His Adventures With Two Other Men During Attack on Socony Hill in Nanking.

Shanghai, March 29 (AP)—John D. Wilson, son of E. L. Wilson, general manager of the Humford Chemical Works, Humford, N. I., shared the perils of Henry O. Warren, of Olin, N. C., and Denale D. Taylor of Lincoln, Cal., as they signalled to the warships in the Yangtze during Thursday's attack on Socony hill, in Nanking.

When the United States destroyer No. 10 arrived here today from Wuhu, where it was relieved by the destroyer Stewart, Wilson, who stands six feet one, modestly told of his adventures in company with the two men of the William B. Preston and others of the landing party. He said that during Wednesday night they kept up a vigil on Socony hill, but only on Thursday morning did they have an intimation of the hostility of the Chinese soldiers.

"A machine gun placed on a hill 200 yards away," he went on, "fired on our position, and we ducked. A little later word came that looting had begun. Then we saw the refugee party coming, with Consular Davis at the head with the Stars and Stripes."

At noon, four others and I walked a short distance from Socony house forchow. Returning we were stopped by Nationalist troops. Our arms had been taken away earlier on Mr. Davis's orders, so as not to incite the Nationalists. The soldiers demanded money. One little devil stuck a rifle to my ribs and I thought the end had come. I gave the leader all the money I had, after which he kept the others from bothering me.

"This bunch were just kids—all under twenty by the leader—but they were armed to the teeth, much better than the northern soldiers. We finally got away when our money was gone. The soldiers then began looting Socony house and made a clean job. We were still unarmed and helpless. We could have cleaned out a whole lot of them with our automatic pistols."

As for the final tense moments Wilson described them as "not so bad" adding: "The consul ordered us to resume our arms, which we gladly did. We returned the fire and I know I picked off seven. Then, on Mr. Davis's orders, we gave the 'begin firing' signal from the veranda and roof, and soon the shells from the warships came down, the No. 10 arriving first."

One of my best friends was discussing his chum. He said, "Fred is one of those fellows who would hold the lamp while his mother chopped the wood."

Maybe what's wrong with this generation is that too many parents' slippers are being worn out on the dancing floor.

He—If I'd known you were so extravagant I'd never have married you.
She—Well, if I wasn't father would never have let you.

Willie, cunning little fellow, Tossed the baby in the cellar; Mother said, "Look out, there Willie, You'll upset the picaillili."
—Newark, Ohio, Advocate.

"Ma," said Lily, "picaillili. Doctor says ain't good for Willie; So if he falls in it, the silly, I may have to pick a lily."
—Houston, Texas, Post-Dispatch.

Lily's mother softly chuckled. As she shines her garter buckles, "In the vinegar our Willie Certainly would pickle Lily."
—Youngstown, Ohio, Telegram.

"I don't care for picaillili." Said this same demure young Lily. But the cellar steps were hilly And she fell for picaillili.

Bootlegger (to blind beggar)—How would you like to taste some good liquor?
Blind Beggar—Lead me to it.
Bootlegger (complying in haste)—Now tell me what you think of it.
Blind Beggar—Believe me, I have to admit that's real whiskey, sir.

Bootlegger—Thanks. I want this supply for my own use. Since you're blind already, I thought it much safer to try it on you first.

Haber—There's no place like home, after all.
Wifer—Yes? Has something disagreeable happened at the club?

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Boston—Lloyd Mann, who has been breaking running records indoors, is going to do something else nobody has done before, if his trainer has things straight. He's going to winter at Falls City, Neb., in the summer. "He is through with running for nine months," says Jack Ryder. "I told him to hibernate a while."

Lockhaven, Pa.—Happy Nate Rorabaugh, disciple of Isaac Walton! He wouldn't pay his taxes and they have put him in the hoosegow. After he served 3 months they let him out just as the fishing season opened.

Easthampton, Conn.—Al Schooner, heavyweight, who was knocked out in an effort to win the state amateur title, may have ministerial aid in a back-from-elba movement if he desires. The Rev. Dr. Hubert S. Stafford, Congregationalist, is willing to train him, with strict attention to diet.

Southampton, England—After the mighty Leviathan has made 50 more trans-Atlantic voyages perhaps passengers will be able to see their friends 3,000 miles away. Commemorating the 50th voyage, a banquet was given aboard and addresses at a similar dinner in New York were heard by radiophone.

Atlantic City—Folks here think a lot of sour grapes is being manifested by other cities. As to protests against the annual bathing beauty parade, Armand T. Nicholas, director general of the pageant, suggests an investigation to determine who is keeping the agitation alive.

Rome—More penalties for unfascist like for fascist are urged. The newspaper Tribuna wants "treason to national economy" added to the statutes, especially for persons who cause French dreamakers to exhibit the latest styles in Italy.

London—There's quite a discussion as to whether men should tip their hats to women in the emancipated days. Some opponents favor a salute which both sexes could use.

Trout Season Opens Saturday

Creeks and streams flowing high but fishermen have hopes they will be in good condition. Local fishermen have been busy for the past few days getting fishing tackle ready for the opening of the trout season on Saturday, April 2. The season closes the last of August. Again this year the minimum length is six inches and the day limit is ten pounds to a person.

Although there has been a great deal of snow in the mountains and the creeks and streams have been running high, expert fishermen predict that with a few days of warm weather the streams will be in good condition for the opening of the season. Prior to the snow of Saturday and Sunday the streams were in good condition and with a day or two of warm weather the snow which fell over the week end will have disappeared. Little frost in the ground this spring has caused the snow to go off easy and quickly and the streams are in exceptionally good condition.

Boating houses throughout the Catskill mountain section are looking forward to a busy season. Several of the houses located along the Esopus watershed will open for guests with the opening of the fishing season.

Friday Will Be Busy Day.
Friday, will be April 1 and All-Fools' Day, when the small boy will be on his job. It will also bring a new moon. House rent will also be due for renters. In the days of the D. & H. canal April 1 was moving day downtown, instead of May 1 as it was uptown, in contrast to present days when people rent by the month as a rule and the first day of nearly every month of the year finds a number of moving vans on the go.

Play at Stone Ridge.
A play entitled "June Time" will be given in the Stone Ridge Grange Hall on Friday evening, April 1, by post graduates of the Ellenville High School. After the play there will be dancing. Music will be furnished by a six piece orchestra from Ellenville. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the home economic committee of the Stone Ridge Grange.

Bridge Party Next Week.
A bridge party will be held in the Masonic lodge rooms, Strand and Broadway, on Wednesday afternoon, April 6, under the supervision of Mrs. Lena Gildersleeve. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Proceeds for the benefit of Kingston Chapter, No. 155, O. E. S. All bridge players are invited.

Another Death in Bootleg Feud

Detroit, March 23 (P).—Frank Wright, third victim of a combined fusillade of machine gun, automatic pistol and revolver bullets which yesterday killed two in a bootleggers' feud died today. Wright fell with Joseph Bloom and George Cohen, whose bodies were riddled when they entered an apartment corridor in answer to a telephone summons to ransom a kidnapped comrade.

Police continued a search for the slayers and for Meyer "Fish" Bloomfield, who was kidnapped Saturday night. Robert Burke and Harry Levine are held in connection with the shooting.

Local Death Record
John B. Willmot died on Monday at No. 311 Twenty-sixth street, Union City, N. J. Funeral services will be held at Montrose cemetery, this city, at noon on Thursday.

Nat Aaron, formerly of this city, died Monday night at his home on Fresh Pond Road, Brooklyn. Mr. Aaron, who is a cousin of Aaron and Ralph Cohen of this city, has resided in Brooklyn for a number of years.

Norwich, N. Y., March 28.—The funeral of James Hubert Donaldson, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Donaldson, was held from the home of his parents on Wednesday. He died on Friday, March 22, after an illness of scarlet fever. The Rev. Francis May conducted the funeral and committal services. Interment was in St. Paul's cemetery, Norwich, N. Y.

Lee Ward Relyea, Jr., died on Sunday evening at the residence of his parents, No. 97 Courtney avenue, Newburgh. He was born in Kingston, August 24, 1920, and moved to Newburgh with his parents about three years ago. Funeral on Wednesday at Newburgh at 1 p. m., and the interment at the Port Ewen cemetery at 3 p. m. the same day.

The March coronation of Cyprus Temple of Shriners takes place tonight at Odd Fellows' Temple in Albany where it is expected a large class will be initiated. At 6 o'clock dinner will be served the Shriners and at 8 o'clock the degree work will be staged. The first section was given this afternoon. A number of Kingston Shriners made the trip to Albany today by automobile, and expect to return home late tonight.

Cassidy Wilkes Lake, for many years a highly respected citizen of Connelly, died Monday following a short illness. He leaves three sons, James Lake of Jersey City, N. J., Joseph Lake of West New York, N. J., and William Lake of Connelly. Funeral from his late residence at Connelly, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and the interment at Port Ewen, with requiem Mass for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

James F. Burns, born in this city and for many years a resident here and of Jersey City where he was known as a prominent hotelman, died at Norfolk, Va., early this morning. For some time he had been leading a retired life. Formerly he was a member of the Jersey City Elks' Club. Mr. Burns is survived by his wife, who was Mrs. Sarah McQuade of Savannah, Ga., and one sister, Mrs. Robert Murphy of East Chester street, this city. Interment will be in Savannah, Ga.

Estellus Thompson, formerly of Woodstock but for many years a resident of Yonkers, died Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Helen Drennon, at Lake Hill. He was 78 years old and had been ill for a long time. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, Egbert R. of Edgewater, N. J., and Frank L. of Edgewater, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. Drennon of Lake Hill. Funeral from the home of his sister on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment in Woodstock.

Perry E. Allen, a highly respected citizen, died Monday, March 28, at his home, 45 Leran street. He is survived by his wife, who was Marguerite Hatch; two sons, Edgar V. and Daniel H. Perry, his father and mother, Edgar V. and Gertrude N. Allen; a brother, George, and a sister, Mrs. James E. Davis, all of this city. The funeral will be held privately from the late residence on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., with interment in Montrose cemetery. Friends may view the remains this evening at the residence between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock.

The funeral of Mrs. Gittie M. Saperdorf was held from the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Henry Rockwell, No. 28 Taylor street, Monday afternoon. The services were in charge of W. F. Towne of the International Bible Association. The services were largely attended by her many relatives and friends, there being a large number from Woodstock, where she had resided nearly 20 years. The local tributes were many and beautiful, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held. The deacons were members of the family and interment was in the family plot in Woodstock cemetery.

Mrs. William Blockhouse died suddenly at the Bays Sanitarium in Saugerties on Sunday evening from Bright's disease. She had been taken to the sanitarium from her home on Market street, that village, two weeks ago for treatment. She is survived by her husband, son, Lester Mower of Malden, four sisters, Mrs. Mower and Grace Blockhouse, Mrs. Thine Crawford and Mrs. Hannah Cunningham, and two brothers, Charles Mower and Albert Mower, all of Hudson. Mrs. Blockhouse was in her fifty-third year. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the funeral chapel of Seaton Brothers Company in Saugerties. Interment in Montrose cemetery.

Great Success of Diphtheria Clinics

200 Children Reached in Kingston and New Paltz—According to Wawarsing Home Bureau Report With Kerhonkson.

That diphtheria will no longer threaten the lives of little children in the county is the result of the successful clinics held over Ulster county. The Kerhonkson Home Bureau has just published one of the largest clinics in the county of its size that has been held in the county. The Accord Wawarsing Home Bureau uniting their efforts with those of Kerhonkson and in all they had 230 children present on Thursday morning of last week to take the toxoid treatment. The clinic was held in the new Kerhonkson High school.

83 Women Attend Clothing Meetings

High Falls Leads County in Attendance at First Meeting—Saratoga County and Ulster Exchange Home Bureau Managers While Course Is Being Given.

Above average groups turned out in most of the communities in the county last week in which clothing meetings were scheduled to take advantage of the opportunity offered through the Home Bureau in a spring course in clothing. Not only were the numbers present at the meetings gratifying but interest on the part of the groups was most delightful. High Falls gets first honors in the attendance record, having 23 present at the meeting there.

Through a new and novel experiment a highly capable teacher has been secured to teach the work here. Miss Estelle Jones, Home Bureau Manager in Saratoga county, has had excellent training in the clothing work. The Ulster county manager, Miss Evelyn Nance, having specialized in the nutrition phase of home bureau work, and Saratoga county having needed a teacher in this line, it was decided to have the two managers exchange counties for a few weeks this spring in order that each county would have a specialist presenting the work.

Six lessons have been given in each county. Kingston, Kerhonkson, Gardiner, High Falls, Modena and New Paltz have had the first lessons here, and Miss Jones will return next week to give lessons in the following communities:

Wednesday, April 6, Napanoch in the Firemen's Hall at 1.30.
Thursday, April 7, West Hurley, at the home of Mrs. John Saxe, at 10.30.
Friday, April 8, Shokan, Winchell's Hall, at 1.
Saturday, April 9, Allgerville-Kysrlike, at the home of Mrs. Henry Neff at 2.

Miss Nance reports a somewhat lower attendance at meetings in Saratoga county, some interesting experiences in having to be pulled out of the mud a number of times and reports that snow is still piled high in places; but on the whole, the Saratoga county meetings were well worth the energy expended in reaching them. This experiment on the part of these two counties in eastern New York is watched with interest by the state extension forces at Cornell, as it is the first time it has ever been tried in the state.

BLOOMINGTON.
Bloomington, March 28.—Mr and Mrs. Charles Stussey of Kingston called on the Misses Douglass on Saturday of the past week.

Mrs. Hardenberg is not improving very rapidly from her recent illness. Mr and Mrs. E. McCusker of New Haven, Conn., have been visiting their cousins Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Jacquem for several days.

Mrs. Willis DuBois and little daughter, Evelyn, of Kingston spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. Bell and family of Whiteport. They also called on a number of friends in this place.

Miss Lizzie Douglass, who has been ill recently, is much improved. Miss Rita Brophy of Creek Locks visited Miss Marguerite Randegger Sunday afternoon.

J. Zuehl entertained company from Kingston on Sunday.

Mrs. L. Randegger called on Mrs. Randegger Sunday afternoon.

Carl Dambach spent the week end with his family here.

Church services: Morning worship, 9.45; Sunday school following; Bible class, Wednesday, 7.30 p. m. There was a good attendance at the services last Sunday.

An annual congregational meeting will be held Friday evening of this week in the basement of the church. Supper will be served at 6.30. The annual reports will be read. It is hoped the entire congregation will be present. After the reports have been made and tables cleared, the Girls' League for Service will furnish a short program of entertainment. The members of the Missionary Society will be the hostesses of the evening.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the church next Sunday morning.

A meeting of the consistory will be held at the parsonage Saturday evening.

LAKE HILL.

Lake Hill, March 28.—Miss Elizabeth Sicker of Chichester spent the week end with Mrs. Wilson Bonestell.

Mrs. Earl Watson spent Saturday in Kingston.

Quite a snow fell in this vicinity Saturday evening. At some places it measured three inches.

Aaron Van De Bunt, Jr., of Wilkesbarre, spent Sunday with Jack Wilber.

Mrs. Paul Bonestell spent Thursday with Mrs. Harry Every at Woodstock.

Edna Wilber has moved his family from Woodstock back to Mink Hollow.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Carl made a business trip to Kingston on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bonestell spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt at Kingston.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

Lettuce and fresh vegetables retain a crispness—milk its wholesomeness and sweetness—meats their flavor and original quality—when preserved by Frigidaire. Food—when properly protected—is never wasted through spoilage. Left-overs may easily be saved and "made over" in appetizing ways.

Entertaining is simplified—and made a real joy—by the ease of preparing delicious frozen desserts, mousses and ices, in the Frigidaire freezing compartments.

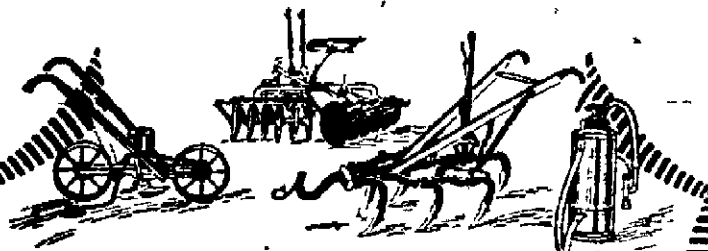

A plentiful supply of sparkling ice cubes is always ready for table use—giving added attractiveness to the serving of cooling drinks. A fresh supply may be frozen several times within twenty-four hours.

See Frigidaire in operation in our office. There is one suited to fill the refrigeration needs of every home. It makes a home more attractive—as well as more healthful and more easy to keep clean.

In the Southern Training Camps

New York, March 29 (AP)—History is repeating itself down in Florida where the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals are renewing the world series rivalry that thrilled all baseballdom last fall. The Cardinals won the second straight game in a nine-game series, 5 to 1, at St. Petersburg yesterday. Just as he stopped the Yankees on their tracks last fall so did ancient Grover Cleveland Alexander return to weave a spell about their bats yesterday after a poor first inning. Babe Ruth after a hit and a pass, struck out when Alex hit down.

Herb Pennock, southpaw star who recently withdrew from the holdout ranks, will be left behind for further conditioning when the Yankees hit the northern trail Wednesday night. He will join the club in New York.

The Giants had little success against Linc Wingo's left handedness at St. Augustine while the St. Louis Browns mated two rookie pitchers to win 12 to 6. Manager McGraw is rumormongering about Florida on a visit to the state capital.

Two continued reports of Eddie "Boss" Connelley hold a long way—11 miles—to the Washington station—5:1 at Tampa. One familiar sight of the regular season was rehearsed in the ninth when Fred Warberry, champion relief hurler, rescued the game for Washington with two out.

HURT ARM IN FALL FROM BOX CAR

Sustains painful injury but gets quick relief

In a fall from the top of a box car, a freight brakeman on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway badly injured his left arm and tore some of the ligaments.

"I suffered great pain," he writes from Belle Plaine, Iowa. "Then I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and it relieved the pain right away."

Sloan's gets results because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It acts on the body to throw off the cause.

Just put it on lightly. No need to rub. Sloan's does the whole job. Get a bottle today. All druggists—Sloan's.

Fisher's Win Big Feature on Fast Card at Armory

Large Crowd is Pleased With Bout at Armory. Where Scientific and Staggered Boxers Performed—Main Bout Was Declared a Draw.

The fracas which probably caused the greatest amount of interest of the galaxy of battles staged at the American Legion bouts Monday night, was the scrap between Charlie Fisher of this city, claimant of the Hudson valley welterweight championship, and Frankie Konchina of New York. The rounds measured by Richard Malone of Brooklyn went the scheduled six and each time the big gong "clanged" the two scrappers took to the middle of the squared circle with wholehearted intentions of scoring a kayo.

Charlie won the decision of the judges after the hard struggle. In the first round blood was brought to Fisher's face by a hard blow on the nose. He seemed to be wobbled up by the flow of claret and tore in hammer and tongs after his adversary, who returned a goodly number of blows but they did not appear to have the effect that Konchina's rights and lefts took on Konchina. In the second stanza Fisher landed a right to Konchina's face which drew blood from Frank's nose and as they clinched and fought at close quarters the red flowed on the bodies of both scrappers which gave every appearance of a real battle. The third round brought Konchina from his corner in a rather fatigued condition, apparently, for he began to slow up and tried to tire Charlie out by leaning on him. Once during this stanza Fisher tripped but regained his balance before reaching the canvas. The fourth brought out some close fighting and both men received numerous blows on the head and body. Fisher landed the most punches. In the fifth round Fisher became even more aggressive than he had been in the previous rounds and rained the body and head of Konchina with "ticklers" that seemed to slow him up considerably and by the time the sixth stanza was entered into Konchina appeared to possess little concern to carry the battle on any longer. Fisher entered the roped arena at 152, Konchina at 157 pounds.

Fast Semi-Final Bout.
Tommy Kerakos of New York and Jimmy Abbott of the same city traveled eight three-minute periods in the semi-final affair and both worked to land a haymaker which could not be done. Jimmy Abbott looked the better of the two to the judges and was awarded the decision. Kerakos by no means laid down on the job for he was in the scrap every minute. Abbott landed more blows and exhibited a greater knowledge of ring generalship than his opponent, who had the "ear marks" of an old-time fighter.

Abbott started in a fast mode and kept up his speed throughout the fight. He evidently knew his opponent's style for in the first stanza he immediately went to work on Kerakos and landed numerous taps on his head and face. The second round produced a series of clinches and a shower of lefts and rights landed on the body of Kerakos. He landed on the ropes and apparently prepared for a smashing return but Abbott did not rush him but waited for the rebound and landed punches on Kerakos's chin and stomach. The fourth and fifth stanzas were fought in about the same fashion. Kerakos did most of the rushing and at every angle was punished by his opponent who waited for the attack. The seventh produced two scrappers who were as fresh as when they entered the ring and Abbott assumed a more aggressive attitude than in the fifth and sixth. However he could not hurt Kerakos. In the eighth the boys got anxious but due to their eagerness to land they did little more than stay close and produce short jabs. Abbott weighed 153½ pounds while Kerakos entered the ring at 158½.

A Scientific Affair.
Henry Katena, New York and Eddie Enos, U. S. Navy, produced a scrap that covered a period of thirty minutes and by the time that the tenth round ended the fans were as well pleased that the scrap was terminated as the battles. Both men studied the antics of each other during the first stanza. In the remaining stanzas they rained blows on one another in knock-out fashion but none of the punches seemed to strike hard enough to produce "that tired feeling". Katena tried to tire Enos as he started in speedy fashion. Katena just followed his dancing opponent and put one over whenever he saw an opening but the openings were few. Enos tried for Katena's head but the style of fighting used by Henry kept his head from being battered by the damaging blows. He had a crouched style. Most of the wallop landed on his shoulders. The battle was an even one throughout and in the tenth the boys mixed things up with a bit more vim. However they could not overcome one another and the judges decided the battle belonged to neither man. Katena entered the ring at 122½ pounds. Enos weighed 119.

Aggravated Wham.
West Dawson and Frankie Egerton, both of New York, traveled six rounds in which they both worked diligently for a knockout. Egerton was the more scientific batter but Dawson was the more aggressive scrapper and among the judges' decision. Egerton displayed much cleverness in ducking and covering up. He also landed some few wallopers. Dawson was none the less worse off for the ones he caught and the only apparent injury he sustained was a swollen lip. In the fourth Egerton's left eye started to swell but did not develop into a "swifter". In the two final rounds the boys played for facial shocks. Near the end of the sixth Dawson landed what seemed to be the most damaging punch of the whole battle. It was a right to the stomach but the battle ended before the effects of the blow could work havoc with Egerton. Dawson weighed 116 and Egerton 114 pounds.

Petrone Wins Over Greene

Fighter, Who Will Appear at White Eagle Hall Monday at Duke's Smoker, Johnny Greene at St. Nicholas Arena.

Before an audience of 4,000 fans Dominick Petrone beat Johnny Greene in a ten round fracas at the St. Nicholas Arena, New York city, Monday night. The climax of the session took place in the second stanza when Dominick floored Greene with a right to the jaw. The bell came to Greene's rescue. After that Petrone shook Johnny many times but was unable to bring him down.

Petrone took the decision with plenty to spare and received the applause of the large following.

Petrone and Greene, the two rival Harlemites, fought the semi-final with Andy DeVodi and Red McGee of the Metropolis doing the main affair on the card. McGee took the count in the fifth stanza.

The Dominick Petrone, who beat Johnny Greene in the same individual who will appear in White Eagle Hall on Monday, April 4. He will oppose Mickey Romano of Newark, who is also one of the top notchers in the same class as Dominick. Vitale Zaccetti, are engaged in a local ring if it were not for the fact that he is a personal friend of Charles Nettis and Duke who went to school with the champ scrapper in New York. The boys attended Public School No. 83, 110th street, East Side.

AWARDED MEMBERSHIP IN "NEVER-BEEN-FINCHED-CLUB"

For being a thoughtful driver during the past twelve months, Mrs. Andrew J. Beshock, Connelly, Ulster county, N. Y. is one of the first in this community to be awarded a membership in the 100 per cent Drivers' Club, a subsidiary of the International Association of Automobile Traffic Officers, with headquarters in Seattle, considered the largest traffic body in the world. Through membership in this club the motorist is entitled to display the Good Conduct emblem of this association on his car.

The 100 per cent Drivers' Club is unique in that there are no membership fees or dues, and admission can be obtained by those who have not been arrested for serious traffic violation for twelve months before making application.

The club is financed by the Traffic Officers' Association, who are convinced that traffic safety can only be obtained by cooperation between the motorist and the official.

GIANTS AND YANKS TO PLAY AT WEST POINT

West Point, N. Y., March 29.—The athletic authorities announced today that both the New York Nationals and the New York Americans will visit West Point to play the cadet ball team, the Giants on Monday, April 11, and the Yanks on Thursday, May 26. The announcement was eagerly received and discussed by everyone here, especially by the cadets, most of whom have never seen a big league team play.

Harry E. (Moore) McCormick, former Giant player, who is coaching the cadet team for the second time, was chiefly instrumental in arranging these contests.

Popular Malaysian Name

The name "Timar" is said to be almost as common in Malaysia as Mary or Jane is here. Translated, it means "tin."

Beginning Bout Brief.
The scrap between Bobby Somers and Jimmy Manno, both of the Metropolis, which unrecorded the program was a thriller. The fracas lasted but two minutes and forty-five seconds and during the period Kugwic blimed the canvas twice. The first time he went to the floor he took the count of eight. He arose in rather a dazed condition and endeavored to continue the scrap but received a hard one to the body from Somers, which sent him to the floor in the middle of the ring. He had to be carried to his corner by seconds and after several minutes was revived. During the battle the boys worked hard at close quarters. Somers weighed in at 131 while Kugwic tipped the scales at 122.

A Great Success.

The event was most successful both from the viewpoint of the good show and from the financial end. The large drill shed was visited by about 1,500 fans who applauded vigorously for each bout. The way in which the seating was handled was very admirable for there was no confusion. There were plenty of exits on hand to act as safety and each person holding a reserved seat ticket was escorted to his place. John Kane's orchestra furnished music for the event and all enjoyed the melodies produced by the musicians.

Thomas Campbell, who acted in the capacity of Joe Thompson in the featured attraction that the local batteries intended to hold another boxing exhibition in the armory during the week of April 11 and the information was gladly received by the fans.

The referee, Michael Pellegrino of New York, knew his business and gave the atmosphere a ring of "big-time" battle spirit.

The judges, Frank Thornton of this city and Johnny Doherty of Rochester, both voted at the gate of 80-100 in favor of the decision that met with the hearty approval of all.

Radio Listeners Have Wrong Idea

Complaints are Being Sent To Manufacturers, Who Have No Possible Remedy—Should the Most Direct to Broadcasting Stations.

New York, March 29 (AP)—The ill of radio on which the new federal radio commission begins holding public hearings in Washington today, could be cured in short order by the radio public itself, and would have been before now but for a general misapprehension among listeners as to where the responsibility lies. L. S. Baker, executive secretary of the National Association of Broadcasters told the Associated Press today.

"The radio listeners are the real radio commission," he said. "They've got the power that can't be ignored. They've got the gun to shoot trouble with, but they don't pick the right target. Either they shoot up in the air or they shoot in the wrong direction. Once they get straightened out and correct their aim there won't be any radio troubles except technical matters that the commission can regulate without difficulty."

"The listeners can't seem to get over the idea that when they buy a set they are buying programs. This is no more reasonable than for an automobilist to hold the dealer he bought his car from responsible for the condition of the roads over which he wants to drive."

Baker, whose organization is a cooperative association of more than 200 of the older established broadcasters, said that only 12 per cent of the broadcasting stations in the country have any connection whatever with the manufacturing end of the business.

"Except for these few instances," he said, "the manufacturers have no more control over the broadcast programs that come in on the sets they make than a hardware man has over the mice that may or may not enter the mouse traps he sells."

"But the listeners somehow got a wrong idea to start with and it's hard to change them. When they don't like the programs they get they complain to the manufacturer, who has no possible remedy, when they should go direct to the source of their grievance, the broadcasting station in question."

Baker pointed out that no broadcasting station can exist unless it is being listened to by large numbers and that it will remedy any error it is committing very quickly if the listeners notify it of its offense. The complaint and applause mail is the only guide a station has in its attempt to please, he said, and if listeners would write their reactions, both favorable and unfavorable, to the stations they listen to, evil practices, which are often unintentional, would soon cease to exist.

"There is no greater regulating power possible," he said, "than the power every listener has of cutting a station off his set. That twist of the wrist has the ability to change the whole course of radio broadcasting, provided the stations are notified of it. But to tell the firm that made a set that it is being cut off the air for this or that reason does no good at all. And that's where the public is falling down on its job as a radio's court of last appeal."

Fencer Says He Was Slapped

Los Angeles, March 29 (AP)—A mass of contradictory evidence in the $25,000 "horse whipping" damage suit brought by Lieutenant Gerard de Merreux, fencing master, against J. Stuart Blackton, film director, confronted the jury today as opposing counsel prepared to argue the legal issues.

The fencing master added another angle to the conflicting versions of what led to the thrashing when he testified yesterday that the director's wife, Mrs. Louis S. Blackton, slapped his cheeks and scratched his face in a fit of anger. De Merreux said Mrs. Blackton flew into a rage when she discovered he was leaving the director's home. He previously explained he decided to leave after receiving a note from Blackton's wife. Blackton, in admitting that he administered the whipping, charged that de Merreux had choked his wife and scratched her arms and shoulders until they bled.

Scotch Shepherds Evolve New Breed

Edinburgh, Scotland, March 29 (AP)—Sheep that grow merino wool, turn out twins and make a perfect roast and mutton chops, have been promised by the Animal Breeding Research department of Edinburgh University.

Dr. F. A. E. Crew, director of the bureau, who became known for his experiments in changing the sex of fowls, says the ideal sheep is already more than a possibility. Some of the newly invented sheep are already grazing in his experimental pen.

The department has in progress extensive investigations into the nature of the various kinds of fleece, and the way in which fleece and mutton characters are inherited.

The investigators also are well on the way to perfect certain discoveries about pink and pigs which are raised for their bacon.

Amateurism Culls Monday.
Monday the city ambulance removed Pearl Sampson from the Kingston City Hospital to No. 182 Albee street, and Mrs. Samuel Sampson from 55 Ann street to the Benedictine Hospital.

Spread of Orange Culture

The orange is a native of India or southern China, but has been introduced to all parts of the tropics and warm temperate regions.

Farm Bureau Spray Service

Insect Pests and Diseases Discussed at Special School at Cornell—Ulster County Represented by A. M. Boyce.

A. M. Boyce, Spray Service assistant of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, attended the special school held last week at Cornell. This school is held at the beginning of each season for all those men in the state who are conducting the Spray Information Service as a project of the Farm Bureau.

Insect pests and diseases of fruits and vegetables were taken up very thoroughly and the practical control measures of each outlined and discussed. Specialists from the entomology and plant pathology departments of the New York State College and from the Geneva Experiment Station were present and discussed many of the major problems of the growers.

Professor Parrott, chief of the entomology research staff at the Geneva Station, led a very interesting discussion at the Friday sessions on the utility of oil sprays. It was pointed out that, in the sections where the oil emulsion sprays have been used to some extent as a delayed dormant application on apples, a serious aphid or scab year has not been experienced. Thus the merits of oil sprays have not been fully demonstrated nor has it been determined as yet whether yearly applications of oil to fruit trees will be detrimental because of the cumulative effects of the oil residue. So with the use of oil sprays it is well to bear in mind that they are yet to be considered in the experimental stage.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Excellent afternoon reception was followed by blanketing after dark. The Roxy and Willies-Overland programs at WJZ and the Rochester concert from WGY, followed by the hot water music from WJZ and WGY made the evening worth while for all but the DX hounds. The dial twister had to console themselves with occasionally hearing, very faintly, WRC, WLW, WSAI, WBZ, and KDKA.

At 9 o'clock there was considerable static and an increased volume on western stations, but WRC and WIP, which were heard before 8 o'clock, had vanished.

See this Moderate Price Suit With Custom-Tailor Distinction

CUSTOM-MADE clothes have always enjoyed a certain prestige and distinction. Not only because of the tailoring, but because custom-tailors have always used a distinctive type of cloth.

But now there has come on the market something new—the Worsted-tex suit—made of the type of cloth you see at a fine custom-tailor's—and tailored to meet the requirements of the business man or the executive.

It is the first time, so far as we know, that any clothing store has ever been able to show a suit of this character at a price as moderate as

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 29 (AP).—Speculators for the advance resumed their bullish campaign in today's stock market by bidding up a flock of high priced industrials and rails to new high records, but they encountered stiffer resistance. Bear traders kept up their relentless campaign for weak spots, and there was rather heavy profit taking after the marking up of the call money rate. The credit stringency arises from the month end demand for funds, and is believed to be only temporary.

U. S. Steel common, General Motors, du Pont, General Railway Signal, Commercial Solvents B, All America Cables, Delaware and Hudson, Norfolk and Western, Baltimore and Ohio and Rock Island were among the many issues to break through their previous high levels. Selling was most effective against shares of companies whose current earnings are regarded as disappointing. These included Famous Players, Electric Refrigeration and American Brown Boveri. Union Pacific showed a substantial increase in February net income.

Pool operators succeeded in marking up a number of minor specialties such as Walworth, By Products Coke and Universal Pipe, but commission house buying showed little indication of widespread public participation. The growing belief that substantial stock or treasury asset distributions are in order by large corporations to avoid possible taxes, was a factor in the demand for the so-called "rich men's stocks."

Radio Ears

The world is developing a new sense of hearing as the result of listening on the radio, according to Charles M. Adams, in Radio News. Not only is attention more sensitive in the majority of mankind since the popularity of the receiving set, but Mr. Adams considers it probable that human imagination is growing more facile, being able to conceive the atmosphere of a church on hearing a service broadcast, or picturing a play on reception of its lines.

The Sinner

During a recent speed law enforcement was a motor officer stopped on a highway. He was told by the inquiry, "What are you holding me up for? I wasn't speeding."
 "I know it," was the reply.
 "And I am not drunk—have not been drinking."
 "I know that, too, but you haven't your license on you."
 "That's funny; I certainly got on everything when I had out for me,"—Los Angeles Times.

Sapiro Details His Legal History

Aaron Sapiro Tells Of His Successes Leading Up to the Time In 1924, When He Alleges His Activities Felt Effects of Dearborn Independent Articles.

Detroit, March 29 (AP).—An Aaron Sapiro whose standard law governing cooperative marketing has been adopted in whole or in essence in forty states, and an attorney who has briefed cases or argued them before the supreme courts of the United States and fifteen of the commonwealths, was pictured today as the man alleged to have been damaged to the extent of $1,000,000 by articles printed in Henry Ford's weekly, the Dearborn Independent.

Sapiro himself, as a witness, sketched in the lines under the coaching of his attorney, William Henry Gallagher.

In addition, the man who appeared before joint sessions of the legislatures of at least six states scattered over the country was outlined.

Ford's Counsel Objects.

The artist's arms were jolted throughout by shoves and pushes in the train of objections by James A. Reed, United States senator for Missouri, chief of Ford counsel.

"Ch. I object to that," he interrupted as Sapiro was detailing his appearances before the legislatures of Texas, South Carolina, Georgia, Minnesota, Kentucky and Illinois. "There is no allegation here that the witness's reputation as a lobbyist was damaged."

Reed and C. B. Longley, head of the Ford organization legal department, sought to have Sapiro restrained from detailing his legal history, asserting that it would be shown that he could not have been damaged in his practice in states in which he had no license to practice.

Judge Fred M. Raymond upheld Gallagher in his contention, however, that such practice was universal, one state recognizing the right of attorneys of the other.

Troubles With Tomato Growers.

In telling of the troubles of the tomato growers during the war Sapiro said the price was set by the government at $15 a ton. Different individuals were appealed to, including Colonel Horace Westwick, California, state marketing director, but no results were obtained.

"Then we appealed to Senator Reed and got some results," said Sapiro, glancing toward the chief of Ford counsel.

"Was he one of those 'gentlefolks' referred?" asked Gallagher.

The spectators roared with laughter.

Reed arose and addressed Gallagher. "I would like to explain I did not know whom I was representing," he said.

Another outburst of laughter brought a rebuke from the judge who told the attorneys recess periods should be used for such repartee.

"We must make progress with this case," he said sternly.

Sapiro then turned to an account of his work with the tobacco growers.

Killed in Gun Fight With Police

Question Whether Police Had a Right to Enter the Dead Man's Home—Patrolman Says He Was Driven In to the House.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Coroner Emus said today he would consult with the district attorney before issuing a certificate in the death of Frank Polewick, shot dead last night in a gun fight with police.

Police claim Polewick ran amuck with a shotgun, terrorizing his family and neighbors and that the shooting was justifiable homicide.

There is some question whether police had a right to enter the Polewick home or whether they should have surrounded the house and taken Polewick after he had exhausted his ammunition.

The shot that ended Polewick's life was fired by Patrolman Matthew Ajewski. The officer has made a statement to the coroner in which he claims he was driven by Polewick at the point of the shotgun through the yard of the Polewick home into the house to a small room where Polewick fired at him, the charge going over his head. Five shots were fired by Ajewski, one of the bullets entering Polewick's right elbow, tearing through the flesh of his arm and then penetrating his body, puncturing a lung.

Workers Find Strange Bird in Old Structure

New York.—Workers demolishing the building on the site for the new building of the New York Athletic club found today a strange crippled bird recently which added identification only by that one of discarded knowledge, the foreman. The bird, perched on a rafter, resembled a pigeon, but had a count somewhat like a rooster.

The bird was taken to the West Forty-seventh police station. A crow and a wing had been injured, the latter having been bound with a strip of adhesive tape.

The bird has a dark grey breast, brown feathers on the neck and white specks around the tail.

Embargo Now Up to Canadians

St. Albans, Vt., March 29 (AP).—The matter of when the American embargo on Canadian cream and milk occasioned by the typhoid epidemic in Montreal, will be lifted was placed up to Canadian health officials here today by United States customs officers.

A committee of Canadian shippers who conferred with Collector Harry C. Whitehill yesterday seeking the lifting of the embargo, was informed today that he would not recommend allowing entry of the dairy products until he was satisfied that danger of the spread of typhoid had ceased to exist.

Mr. Whitehill added: "If the Canadian health officials find the cause of the epidemic comes from one certain dairy or locality and prove to our satisfaction that there is no danger from other Quebec localities, I will recommend to Washington to allow entry of cream and milk from such places."

Carlin of Brooklyn their home on the Lake Road-Woodstock road, town of Woodstock.

Permit Separate Wage Agreements

United Mine Workers Adopt Resolutions Authorizing Districts in Central Field to Enter Into District Wage Agreements.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29 (AP).—The United Mine Workers have gone so far as to authorize separate wage agreements between mining companies in the central competitive field and their unionized employees after March 31, when the present contract expires, in an effort to avert a general suspension in the bituminous coal industry April 1. This policy was decided upon yesterday at a meeting of the policy committee of the mine workers.

Two resolutions adopted provided that districts in the central field—Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania—may enter into district wage agreements based upon existing agreements, and also that this district may permit any operator to operate after March 31 on a temporary extension of the present contract pending negotiation of a basic scale for the whole field. A third resolution provided for the keeping of maintenance men in mines in event of a strike on the condition that existing wages be paid.

However, it was believed a walk-out in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio was probable in view of the determined stands taken by operators of those states for a competitive wage scale which would enable them to compete more favorably with non-union mines in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The "pinchout" tactics of the miners also are being employed in the outlying districts in an effort to force recalcitrant operators in the central field to enter a wage agreement. The stand of the policy committee is viewed as the union's move to pave the way for a resumption of general negotiations which were unsuccessful at the conference between the miners and operators at Miami a month ago.

The miners in international convention before the Miami conference were bound not to accept lower wages in the new agreement.

The operators demanded a competitive scale and the meeting became deadlocked. Yesterday's proposals by the policy committee, according to John L. Lewis, mine union president, mean that the first district contract which can be negotiated upon terms acceptable to the policy committee will become the basis for a basic contract for the whole central field.

Melting Snows Filling Reservoirs

Ashokan Reservoir Three-Quarters Full, With Water Running Over Dividing Weir from West to East Basin—Scholarie Lacks Two Billion Gallons of Being Full.

The Ashokan reservoir today contained ninety-six billion gallons of water with the west basin full and water flowing over the crest of the dividing weir into the east basin, which is over half full. The total capacity of the Ashokan reservoir, including both west and east basins, is one hundred and twenty-eight billion gallons.

The Scholarie reservoir lacks but two billion gallons of being full. It has a capacity of twenty billion gallons and today contains about eighteen billion gallons.

It was stated today that the water in the west basin of the Ashokan reservoir was a foot and a half over the crest of the dividing weir with the water running into the east basin.

The heavy snow fall of the past winter together with the rain that fell during February and this month has assisted materially in raising the streams that feed the Ashokan reservoir.

Error May Cause Special Session

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—A legislative error may cause a special session of the Legislature.
Although Senate and Assembly passed resolutions approving the constitutional amendment creating an executive budget, both houses apparently failed to enact the measures in the form required by law. Each house approved its own bill and neither followed the usual procedure of substituting the resolution of the house for its own.
Governor Smith, who is away from the Capital for a short vacation, was expected back today to give consideration to the situation created by failure of the resolution. In view of the fact that he has been a vigorous advocate of the proposal, it was anticipated that he would call an extra session rather than submit to the delay resulting if legal experts find that the amendment must be approved by two legislatures again before it can be voted upon at an election. The resolution which failed in the last session already had been approved in the 1926 session.
The governor is also known to be not at all satisfied with the way in which the Legislature disposed of the question of water power development and he might welcome an opportunity to put it before a special session.

Miners Ready for General Shutdown

Hellshire, Ohio, March 29 (AP).—Ohio miners prepared today for a general shutdown of all coal mines in the state at the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement Thursday night.
In this section the richest coal mining region in Ohio, approximately 1,000 cutters expected to be out of work today, 500 having left their jobs yesterday when operators asserted no more coal need be cut in the absence of a wage agreement.
About 13,000 miners in the eastern Ohio district, which produces two thirds of Ohio's coal, have two days left in which to clear mines, and prepare them for abandonment until a new wage scale is agreed upon. They will follow the cutters Thursday.
With the release of the cutters today, no indication of a compromise was apparent. C. J. Albain, commissioner of the Eastern Ohio Coal Operators Association, declared he saw no remedy and that he believed few operators would negotiate independently with miners, and that he believed union suggestions that district negotiations could be carried out were highly improbable.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATRES

Reads's Kingston theatre will present "God Gave Me Twenty Cents," tonight. Lois Moran plays the leading feminine role and has drawn much favorable comment from the critics of the cinema world. Miss Moran is but 18 years old and is noted for the way in which she interprets difficult parts, especially tragedy. In connection with the feature picture there will be four vaudeville acts, the main feature of which will be "The Charleston Champions," who won the title by defeating numerous competitors at the exhibition held in Chicago.
The Auditorium theatre will present the photoplay, "The Unknown Cavalier," starring Ken Maynard, tonight. It is a First National attraction.
The Orpheum theatre will screen double features, "Desert Gold" and "While the Wife's Away."

BOY SCOUT TROOP NO. 11 GETS FLAG EQUIPMENT
On Sunday, March 27, Troop 11 of the Boy Scouts connected with the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, was presented with a very fine flag equipment. Frank S. Hyatt made the presentation of the American flag on behalf of the Winners' Bible Class and the troop committee. He gave a brief but fitting address. Howard N. Smith, county Scout executive, made the presentation of the troop flag which came from the same source. Scoutmaster Newell S. Cranston received the flag on behalf of the Boy Scouts and thanked the donors for the flag and also for their cooperation and help which they have given the boys.

Matters Before The Surrogate

In the surrogate's court the will of Susan Barman of Kingston has been admitted to probate, no objections being filed. The value of the estate exceeds $10,000 real, exceeds $5,000 personal. Balthasar Barmann is named as executor. The will was executed June 17, 1917, the witnesses being Roscoe Irwin and John J. McGrath. By the terms of the will there is devised to Peter J. Barman $5; to the other five children each one-fifth of the net estate real and personal. Benjamin McClung of Albany, attorney for the executor.

In the matter of the judicial settlement of the accounts of Antoinette E. Martin, an executrix of Judson Martin of Plattekill, accounts passed and decree directed. William T. Snyder, Newburgh, attorney for petitioner.
Surrogate Kaufman has approved the accounts of Frederick S. Duncan and Ralph N. Voorhis, as trustees under the will of Jeremiah W. Dimick, formerly of the town of Esopus. In allowing the claims of the trustees for one-half of commissions upon the sale of real estate and the reinvestment of principal, he awarded to each trustee $5,565, but was requested by Judge Clearwater, who represented Mrs. Altha Corey Beaufort, formerly the wife of Mr. Dimick, he charged this allowance against the life income of Mrs. Beaufort. Mrs. Beaufort's husband, John E. Beaufort, who long has been ill, died at their residence in Asheville, N. C., on the 6th of March. John H. Hilliard of New York appeared for the trustees upon the accounting. Archibald H. Jackson for Harcourt Dimick, a contingent residuary legatee.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, March 29 (AP).—Demand on state cut currents was considerably improved and with supplies only moderate, prices strengthened. At the Barclay street pier, most of the carload business on 100 pound sacks were reported around 200 and bushel baskets at 90. Texas bunched carrots were in moderate receipt. Trading was fair and the market without decided change. Bushel baskets wholesaled at $1.50 @ $2.50.

Supplies of state old crop cabbage were limited. Demand, however, was rather limited and price changes since yesterday were small and unimportant. Bulk white Danish peddled out at $18 and $20 per ton for the very best and $13 @ $15 on ordinary. Southern offerings, from Florida varied greatly in condition and quality and sales ranged accordingly. The very finest stock commanded $2 @ $2.25 per 1 1/2 bushel hamper whereas poor in many instances did not realize transportation costs. Last week's receipts of cabbage on the local market filled 117 cars. New York furnished 14 cars while the remainder came from Florida, Texas, Alabama, California, South Carolina, Louisiana, Michigan and Holland.
Barrelled apples from all parts of the state were in moderate receipt. The undertone of the market was steady to firm on greenings, but dull on Baldwins. Western New York grade A 2 1/2 inch Baldwins jobbed out within the price range of $2.75 @ $3.25 per barrel.
The price trend on Florida new crop potatoes was again downward. Arrivals were moderate but the outlet continues limited. Doubleheaded barrels of the number one Spaulding rose changed hands at $9 @ $10; mostly $9.50.

HOME SERVICE SPRING SERIES OPENS THIS WEEK
The spring series of Central Hudson home service classes will place a special emphasis on health, because it is in the spring of the year that most people feel a bit run-down, sluggish in appetite and rather lacking in pep. Also the spring market has many new fruits and vegetables that can be introduced into the diet to give variety.
The first class of the series will be held this week on Wednesday evening at 7:30 and on Thursday at 2:30 in the afternoon, in the home service auditorium at 5 Field Court, and will cover "Counting the Calories." Miss Nellie Davenport, new director of Kingston Home Service, will demonstrate recipes and food prepared during the class will be served to class members. Desserts will be shown in their proper light—as a part of the meal rather than something just "extra." All women are cordially invited to attend.
